PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED SUPPLEMENTAL JURY INSTRUCTION CONCERNING THE PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION

Plaintiff, KPM Analytics North America Corporation, by and through its attorneys, proposes the following supplemental jury instruction concerning the preliminary injunction in this case (ECF Nos. 94, 120):

Yesterday, you heard certain evidence concerning the sales or lack of sales by Blue Sun/ITG. I want to tell you a piece of information that you may find helpful in evaluating that testimony.

After this case was filed in this court and pending the outcome of the case, the Court on August 23, 2021, ordered the defendants to refrain from using or disclosing KPM's trade secrets and/or confidential information, and to stop selling or offering to sell any products or services relating to either SpectraStar or Phoenix Near-Infrared analyzers to any current or former KPM customers that any of the individual defendants had worked with while they were at KPM in order to preserve the status quo pending the outcome of the case.

This instruction is based on the instruction issued by District of New Hampshire in Tamko Roofing Prods., Inc. v. Ideal Roofing Co., Ltd. (Nos. 01-1382, 01-2273 (D.N.H. May 16, 2000)), and approved of by the First Circuit when the introduction of preliminary injunction evidence was unsuccessfully challenged on appeal. See Tamko Roofing Prods., Inc. v. Ideal Roofing Co., Ltd., 282 F.3d 23, 39-40 (1st Cir. 2002). The instruction given in Tamko Roofing is reproduced in full below:

After this case was filed in this court and pending the outcome of the case, the Court on February 29, the year 2000, ordered Ideal to stop using the trademark in question in order to preserve the status quo pending the outcome of the case.
